COLUMNStewart Disposes of Storbeck
With Very Little Trouble.

Copyright, 1912, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World).

THE STEWART disposed of Fred Storbeck at the Garden last night with very little trouble. O'Rourke, with a grimace, threw up the sponge for the South African in the sixth round. Storbeck was a big, husky fellow, with good intentions enough to have any old place. But he was slow and a little bit, and he didn't know enough about boxing to put him on the edge of Stewart's class. He started with a "clean-up" series of swings, which Stewart avoided easily. Then Stewart slammed in a few and Storbeck reeled.

In the third round Stewart began tapping Storbeck around and trying to pose him for a K. O. with the right. He didn't quite succeed in putting on the finishing touch, but slammed in some midriff wallop that could have been heard from here to the Transvaal. Storbeck was weak but aggressive through the next round. In the fifth he missed a right swing and sat down hard. He rose in a few seconds, shaking his head and looking as if he felt a little chagrined. After a little more roughing about he was dropped by Stewart with a heavy right on the chin. Storbeck rolled over and got up, legs first, looking around for Stewart between his bent knees before he left the floor, and finally rising in a peculiar defensive position that made James walk around him before he could hit again.

In a moment another right, on the eye, dropped the African, who was down sticking to the canvas like glue, when the bell rang just as the count reached "six."

Storbeck started the sixth with a rally, forcing his way in on Stewart and landing half a dozen swings. Stewart paid no attention to the punches, but boring in pushed Storbeck around with his left to leave him in good position for a right upper-cut. Three or four of these had the African staggering and ready to drop, when O'Rourke tossed in the sponge.

In spite of the heavy hammering there wasn't a drop of blood spilled. The preceding ten-round bout was between Young Jack O'Brien and Young Brown. O'Brien won cleverly. He is almost as tricky as old Jack, and has a world of speed and cleverness. His style of boxing took the crowd at once, and apparently for once the Gotham rooters were with the Philadelphia visitor.

Half a dozen times during the bout it looked as if Brown, who was punting in and hitting hard, quick punches, might upset the slim youngster, but O'Brien always slipped out of danger and came back fighting a second later. He ended with a two-round spurt of fighting that left no doubt that he deserved the decision.

Brown is a much harder hitter. O'Brien is more a boxer, although, like his brother, "Philadelphia Jack," he can hit fairly hard with his right when he is driven to it in the mixing.

I HAVE a letter from John Flanagan, who, it seems, isn't in Stockholm at all, at all. Here it is:

Dear Bob—I saw where it was reported that I was to compete for England at the coming Olympic Games. NEVER! I won points for America at three games (St. Louis, Paris and London), and if I were in form at the present time I would be only too glad to compete under the Stars and Stripes.

Please give this all the circulation you possibly can, as I want to refute statements in the press that I am competing for England.

JOHN J. FLANAGAN.

THOSE American flags, three in a row, must look pretty good running up the winner's flagstaff on the Stadium wall at Stockholm.

PLANT'S ELENA AGAIN
LEADS E. Y. C. RACERS.

BILLINGS COVE, Me., July 8.—In a good southwest wind E. Y. C. Plant's first division schooner yacht Elena won yesterday's race in the Eastern Yacht Club's annual cruise down the Maine coast. The run was from Fox Island Thoroughfare over a 23 1/2 mile course to Pumpkin Island Light, the Elena finishing in 3 hours 2 minutes 21 seconds, with the Iroquois, owned by E. W. Clark of Philadelphia, second in 2 hours 4 minutes 16 seconds and the Knapthorne, owned by W. E. Iselin of New York, third in 3 hours 9 minutes 12 seconds.

Muriel, owned by H. A. Moras of Boston, scored its first victory in the four days of racing, second in 2 hours 4 minutes 16 seconds.

The Avenger, owned by H. B. Maxwell of New York, kept up its good work in heading the first division sloops home in 4 hours 21 minutes 40 seconds.

Hope of Doing Anything
With the Tigers To-Day

BY BOZEMAN BULGER.

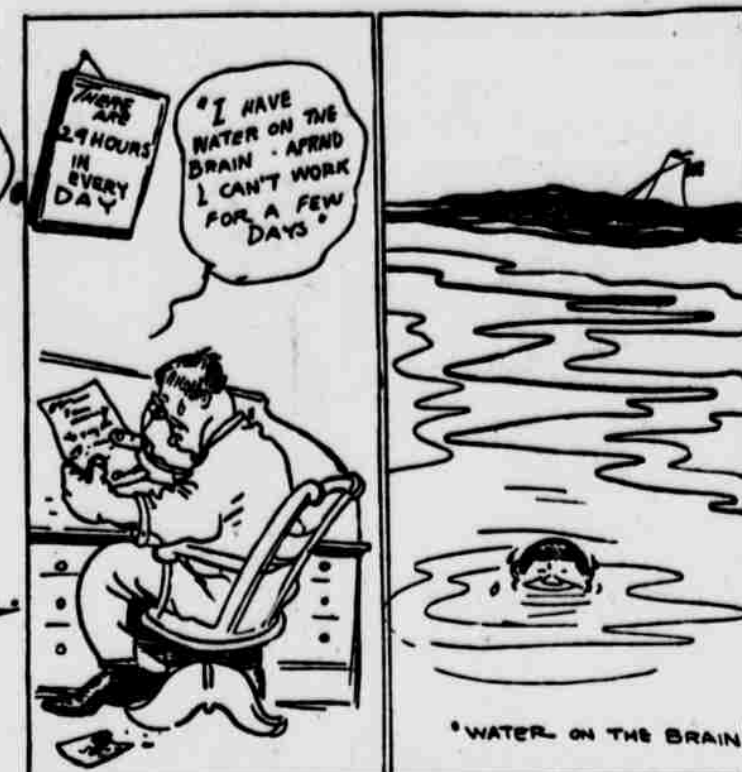

I beginning his second stand against the Western invaders, Harry Wolverton evidently has made up his mind to tear the old Highlander team up by the roots and plant a new one to suit himself. The disposal of Earl Gardner and the moving of Hal Chase from first to second base was a rather drastic step, but he is facing a drastic situation and has no time nor inclination to handle it with gloves. It is possible that Wolverton will find it necessary to keep Simmons in the game on account of his hitting, and that may force him to send Chase back to his old job at first. Simmons is a second baseman naturally. He played a good game at first while Hal was out of the game in the spring, but he would probably be more valuable at the other sack. It is understood that Hartzel is to resume his work at third base and that the shortstop position will be played by Martin or Stumpf. Martin has been doing nice work at short, and as long as he keeps up his present gait will probably remain there. There is a strong belief that Wolverton intends to make an infielder out of Stumpf, the former Princeton catcher. If Wolverton keeps him playing first base, Simmons may have to resume his seat on the bench to make room for Chase at second.

The whole situation is very much in the air, and the players have little hope of being able to do anything with the Tigers, who open here this afternoon. The Detroit Club has been going very well of late, and with an even break of luck Jennings ought to take a majority of the games with ease.

During the present stay at home the Highlanders will play nineteen games, many double-headers being on the programme.

Wolgast and McFarland
Offered Purse of $32,500Tom O'Day of San Francisco
Anxious to Match Champion for Labor Day Afternoon.

BY JOHN POLLOCK.

TOM O'DAY, the fight promoter of San Francisco, is the latest club manager on the coast who is anxious to secure the services of Ad Wolgast for a fight. He has just wired to Tom Jones, manager of Wolgast, an offer of a purse of $32,500 for a twenty-round fight between the champion and Packey McFarland, to take place in the open air in Frisco on Labor Day afternoon. Wolgast has received two other offers from clubs in Sacramento, Cal., of a $20,000 purse to meet Rivers in a return battle on that day. O'Day expects a reply from Wolgast or his manager to-day.

Jack Denning, the local middleweight who went to the west to meet the champion of the world, is anxious to get a fight with Wolgast. He is a former champion of the world, and is a very strong fighter. He is a former champion of the world, and is a very strong fighter.

NAP RUCKER LIKELY TO PITCH AGAINST
CINCINNATI REDSManager Bill Dahlen Declares
Dodgers Will Finish Fifth With Ordinary Luck.

(Special to The Evening World.)
CINCINNATI, July 8.—W. Dahlen and his merry gang declared that they were heartbroken when the rain began to come down yesterday afternoon. Maybe the Reds surely were sore, for the valetorous fourth placers think they have things going just right at present and hate the idea of losing their stride. Still, the pitchers of both outfits will have a fine chance for a healthy season and this will operate mainly in favor of Brooklyn. Rucker, beyond doubt, will be a work horse to-day, and the Reds, as a rule, hit Rucker with resounding fury, right into the catcher's hands.

"I'm pretty well satisfied with this ball club," said W. Dahlen as his men threw pebbles at the flooding torrents that swept through the ball yard. "Last season we had good pitching, but no hitting to go with it. This year the pitching is just beginning to work right and will ultimately be just as strong as in 1911. We have the batters, though, and that's something we were awfully shy on a year ago. When the pitchers get to going as they should, and the batters keep pecking away, we are bound to rise. I'm not claiming everything. I told Mr. Ebbets a month ago not to expect too much. Just the same, on present class we are strong enough to get fifth with ordinary luck, and fourth if things break the way I'm in our favor."

See how different our batting array is from year ago. Look how this Northern and this Smith have helped, and Tooley is hitting far better than he used to. It took some little while for our pitchers to get used to the new ball. The star of the team is a pitcher, but he was a drag and a handicap with his wretched batting. Miller kid is hitting them right on the nose in his throwing. He has become as good as anybody's, and he is mastering the fine points of backing up pitching.

PECK WILL TRY TO LOWER LOCAL STAR'S COLORS.

Ray Peck, the Newark daredevil, will make an attempt to lower the colors of Arthur Glavin of New York at the Stadium tomorrow at Brighton Beach in the feature event of the afternoon—muzzle night. The Jersey will be the fourth man to try to stop the rushing Manhattan bull, and the battle between the two daredevils will be a very strong one.

Peck will line up in the free for all professional when the men are called to the post. He is a very strong fighter, and he is a very strong fighter.

Johnny Condon, the heavyweight, will not be in the fight.

WOLGAST'S VICTORY OVER RIVERS.

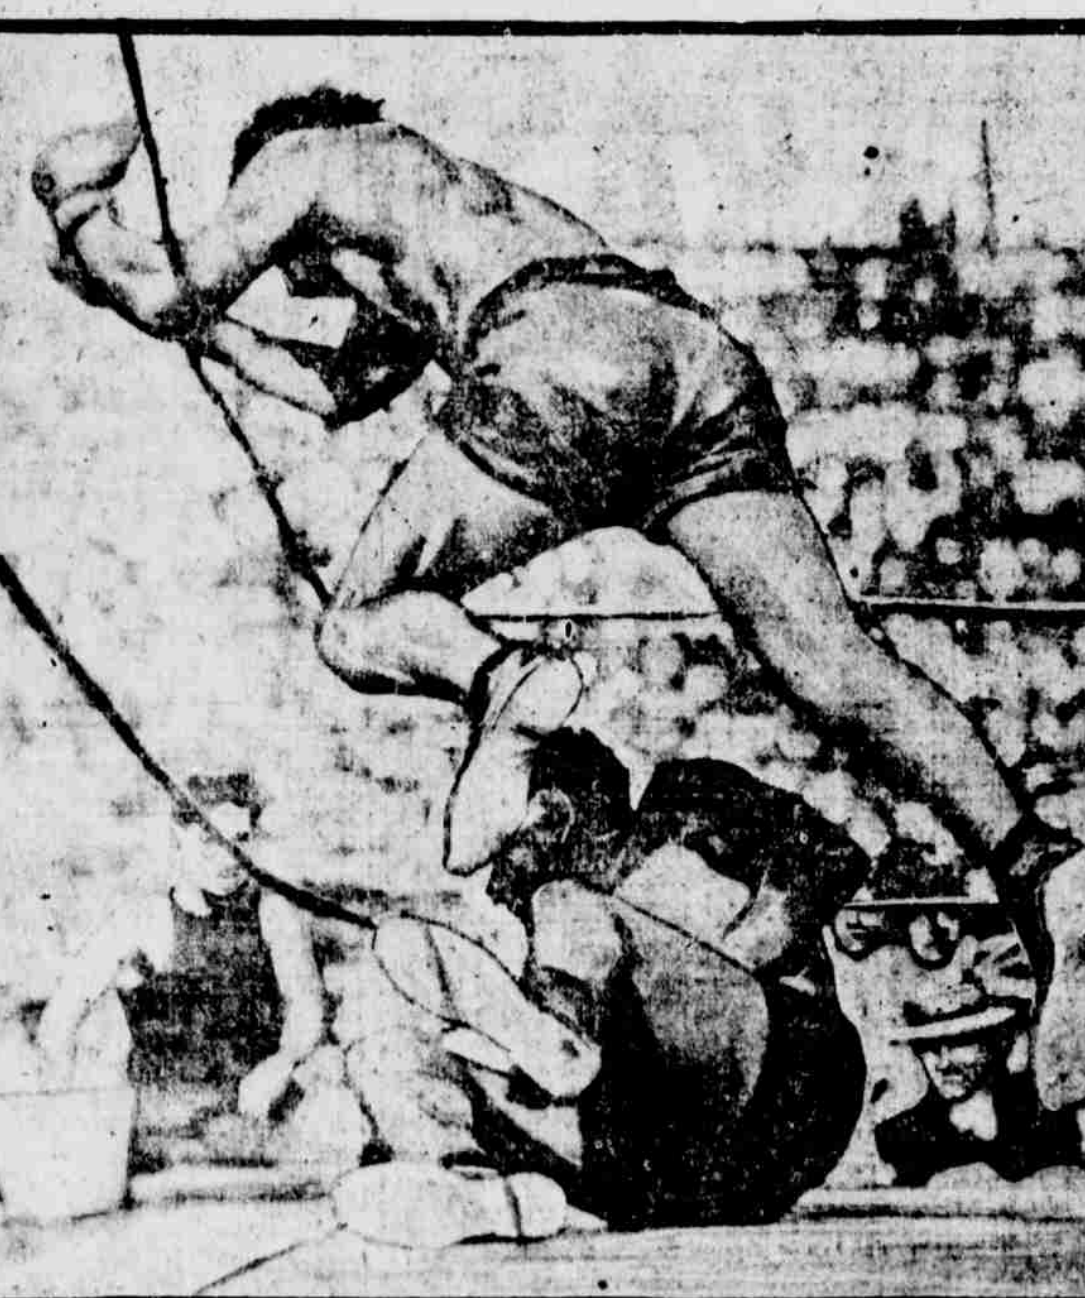

RIVERS ON FLOOR CLAIMING FOUL, WOLGAST
IN AIR FALLING ON RIVERS.

The accompanying picture, the first to arrive in New York, shows the sensational finish in the thirteenth round of the Wolgast-Rivers fight held at Los Angeles on the Fourth. Wolgast was declared the winner on a foul.

At the end both fighters were practically out. Rivers, the Mexican, is seen lying on the floor from a blow declared by his seconds to be foul. The lightweight champion toppled over his opponent and crashed to the floor, the result of a blow on the jaw delivered by a second before he landed the knockout punch on Rivers. Referee Jack Welch assisted Wolgast to his feet and declared him the winner after counting out Rivers. The referee's decision caused a storm of protest, hundreds of spectators yelling that Rivers had won. The shouting citizens arrived after thirteen rounds.

of bitter milling, in which Rivers appeared to have the best of his opponent. The final round began with both boxers fighting head to head. Wolgast was very wild. Suddenly Wolgast crouched and sent in a terrific left directly over Rivers's groin. At the same instant Rivers put his hand to Wolgast's jaw and the champion went down and was practically out. Rivers fell, writhing in pain, and the referee began to count. Claims of foul were made in behalf of Rivers, which were ignored. Referee Welch picked Wolgast up from the floor and declared him the winner. His seconds had to carry him to his corner.

Rivers was lying on the floor, but in a moment rose unaided. The crowd assumed a hostile attitude, and Welch, seeing hundreds surging toward the ring, quickly made his escape.

WOLGAST AND RIVERS
MAY FIGHT IT OUT IN FRISCO ON SEPT. 9Jim Coffroth Makes the Champion Flattering Offer to Appear Before His Club.

(Special to The Evening World.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Eddie Grady announced today that final arrangements had been made for a twenty-round contest between Charley Miller and Al Kaufman, heavyweight champions of the world, to take place in the open air in Frisco on the evening of July 26 or 27.

The matching of the big fellows was brought about by a recent four-round go in which Miller was given the decision. Kaufman's ring work also called attention to his possibilities. When he beat Soldier Elder and followed it up by winning from Kaufman it made local fight fans sit up and take notice. Spider Kelly even went so far as to say that Miller would have had a chance with Jack Johnson on Fourth of July last.

Lightweight Champion Ad Wolgast and Joe Rivers of Los Angeles met straight out the tangle caused by the outcome of their bout on July Fourth by coming together in a return match in this city on Admission Day, Sept. 9. The dispute connected with the ending of the Los Angeles bout is bound to force the rival lightweights into another ring meeting, and Jimmy Coffroth seeks to be the lucky promoter to grab the plum.

Coffroth has already made a move in making a flattering offer to Wolgast and is confident that if he lands the champion Rivers will be only too glad of the opportunity to take another shot at the champion. Coffroth quite naturally would not divulge the terms he offered, but it is known to run well up in the thousands.

LINCOLN GIANTS ARRANGE SERIES WITH SMART SET.

After many days of clerical all arrangements have been completed for the big series of six games between the Lincoln Giants and the Smart Set, the two teams which played the Lincoln Giants a 3-5 game several weeks ago. The first game will be played on Sunday, July 14, at the Lincoln grounds on Third and Broadway streets, between 10 and 11 o'clock.
